

When Dave Morgan joined Pam's first Thursday morning classes in 2011, for "beginners", he was asked by Pam what his experience was. He said he knew how to draw a cheque and paint the front door and that was it! He believes that some people (like his wife) are natural artists whilst others (like himself) aren't.

He admits that he doesn't know what his "style" is - or even if he has one! He has tried most media and various subjects from abstract to nudes, and enjoys painting buildings especially those built in the art deco style.

He says he has two major problems - his impatience - which means he favours acrylics and water colours "because they dry quicker" - and the second being that he sometimes cannot really "see" a colour - somewhat of a problem if you want to be an artist!
