

Di Morgan spent one year at Stourbridge Art College after leaving school in Bromsgrove but was put off drawing and painting by the tutors who thought that the only way forward in art was abstract, whereas Di's natural way of drawing was to faithfully reproduce what she saw.

She then went to Leeds University where she studied fine art and said she would take up practical art again once she retired! She started going to Pam's art classes in 2010.

Her preference is to use oils, although she has dabbled in most media thanks to Pam's classes!
